

Specialised Practitioner Training

'Working Respectfully, Ethically & Effectively With Males'

Courses begin:

23rd – 26th August 2012,
At the Stamford Plaza, Melbourne

Information & Registration available at:

www.aimhs.com.au

Courses offered as four day intensives, featuring separate streams tailored for:

- Health Promotion Practitioners
- Clinical Practitioners

All courses include training extension and AIMHS accreditation options

University of South Australia

Specialised Practitioner Training

'Working Respectfully, Ethically & Effectively With Males'

As a practitioner do you:

Need practical and evidence based knowledge
and strategies for working with males?

Want to understand about male psychology and masculinity – without a whole lot of 'gender-speak'?

Need to know why health services have trouble engaging with men,
and why health promotion-messages often miss the mark?

Courses begin this year:

23rd – 26th August 2012,

At the Stamford Plaza, Melbourne

More information & registration at:

www.aimhs.com.au

